

Friday, March 30, 2007 7:52 AM

I have known Shirley Richards for nearly ten years. I have taken classes from her, assisted her in teaching classes, and trained with her as a friend. She is a quiet but assertive woman who knows dogs and how to get the best from both dogs and their owners using positive reinforcement. She has extensive knowledge of different training techniques and continues to educate herself by reading, attending seminars and workshops, and taking classes from other trainers so she can bring new ideas and methods to her students. she keeps her classes small so she can take the time to work on individual problems and find the training methods that work best for each dog and owner team. She makes her classes a fun and positive experience for both the dogs and their owners. If you are looking for an obedience class, check out Shirley Richards and you won't be disappointed.

Sincerely Tammy Horton, Iselite Mons Drake CGC,TDI,CD,RN,RA,RE and the rest of my schipperke gang